Amber's greatest achievement was being a mother. She loved her son and her family very much. She loved getting together for family times, holidays, and just sitting around doing nothing. She loved to practice baseball with her son. She loved to watch her son play video games and she loved being a mother. She loved to go creek banking, looking for special rocks. She loved star gazing, moon gazing, and most of all, the ocean. She loved the whales and dolphins. She loved to garden. She had a green thumb and could grow anything. She also loved an adventure, while listening to her music.

She was the most beautiful creature. She didn't even know the beauty that she bestowed. She was always there for anyone that called on her. She was a great wife, sister, daughter, friend, and mother.

She was taken too soon from us but she is nature and she is all around us.
