

Ann Brooks Tidwell

October 9, 1946 - February 22, 2024

Ann Brooks Tidwell, born Joyce Ann Brooks, age 77, of Athens, Alabama passed away Thursday, February 22nd, 2024, after a long battle with Alzheimer's.

Ann was born in Athens and graduated from Athens high school in 1964. She completed her bachelor's degree from Athens State College while working at Athens State and retired from there in 1998 after 25 years of service.

She was a member of Friendship Methodist Church in Athens. She had a full life that included lots of traveling and even went to India on a ten-day mission trip in 2005. She was a social butterfly with the true heart of a servant. She had met and befriended many people in her life and was loved by all who knew her. Everyone who knew Ann loved her and we are all better having loved and known her. She will be missed by all who knew her, until the day we join her in glory.

She was preceded in death by her mother Jessie Thompson Brooks; her father Gilbert Johnny Brooks; and brothers Johnny Brooks and Terry Brooks. She is survived by her husband David Tidwell; brother Tracy Joe Brooks; sister Aleisa Brooks; and a host of nieces, nephews, and cousins.

“ My heart is broken. Ann and I went to school together and graduated together. We were best friends for years. We had a group consisting of 5 girls that were together just about all of the time. We went everywhere together and did everything together. if you saw one of us, you saw us all. We had many a night of spend the night parties and had a blast. She was my matron of honor in my wedding. There will never be another Ann in my life. Friends like Ann don't come along very often and I will forever cherish our friendship. She as an amazing lady, full of life and fun. My heart goes out to her husband, her family, and to other that knew and loved her. Rest in peace, dear friend. I love you!
