“ Chris you were a person that loved with your whole heart. Even when you were struggling so hard to fight your own battles you never stopped wanting to help others. You had a wonderful relationship with our heavenly father and I know that you are now where you have wanted to be since you were a young boy and lost your dad. You are now resting in heaven and I know you are so happy and finally at peace with your dad by your side. We all miss you so very much and have a lot of wonderful memories with you. Even though it's hard here on earth without you, I wouldn't want you back here to keep fighting all those demons. You fought a long battle with all of the demon's war most of your life but you won the war. Rest easy and I know we will be back together one day soon. Rest easy my sweet nephew/brother/son. I'm so proud to call you my own. I will love you forever and ever through all of eternity.

“ At a point in my life I was at my lowest Chris would always come check on me. He never knew just how much that meant to me. We were cousins but our bond was much closer than that. I moved and these past 4 years we haven't been around each other as much but the love will always be there. I'm so sorry Chris for not checking on you like I should have but the only thing that gives me peace in this is knowing your in a better place. Until we meet again just know you will definitely be missed.

“ Chris was like my big brother. We were always close. My favorite memory with him was going camping and laying across the dock next to him catching turtles lol. We always went back and released them at night together. I will love and cherish our memories forever Bubba! Rest easy now, you're back where you always dreamed of being, with your wonderful daddy! I love you always! ❤️
