“ My brother and I met Clarann and Alvie at Alliance Cancer center while I was bringing my brother for cancer treatments there .I would usually take my granddaughter with me everyday when I went and her and Alvie were always there too. They were such a nice couple. I saw her in Walmart around Halloween that year and she was buying Halloween candy. She opened a bag and gave me a handful to give to my grand daughter Cali. She was a very sweet lady to have thought about my grand daughter.I'm so sorry to hear of her passing .My daughter sent me this pic of a school friends mom that passed and I knew who it was as soon as I saw it. I had no idea my daughter knew her daughter. I'm sure she will be missed. Tammie Edmiston
