“ I did not personally know Glenda, but I grew up with Ellis Wayne and his family. Ellis Wayne, you have my deepest sympathy and love. God bless you in your grief. My love to you and your family. Doris Anne Brooks-Black.

“ Glenda was my baby sister. We always thought more alike than Joyce and Robert. As kids, Joyce and Robert were always causing mischief. 😊
I am the oldest and always felt responsible for the other 3. As we grew older and lost Mom, Dad, Joyce and Robert, we talked on the phone often. We liked being at home and taking care of family.
She will be in my heart until we meet again and it will be a joyous reunion. I will miss her. Love you sister.
Janie ❤️

“ As the oldest of the grand children from the Robert George family, of which Aunt Glenda was the youngest of 4 children - my first memories as a child was when I was either 3 or 4 years old and I was the ring bearer for Uncle Wayne's and Aunt Glenda's wedding. I looked very good in a tuxedo btw. I was supposed to walk to the altar with the flower girl. But when it was "show time" - I froze and started crying. The result - the flower girl became both flower girl and ring-bearer. My mom was furious. But Aunt Glenda was very forgiving. My earliest memories
