“ I had the opportunity to work with Jerry off and on for several years in North Intermediates maintenance, Monsanto , before my retirement on 1993. He was full of mischievous most of the time, but he could do more work alone than most anyone I know. He would take on any job around... Harold Thompson

Jerry was our friend for many years, we were always excited to see Jerry! He would always leave us in laughter, he also always stayed with us a little extra time. Jerry and my dad would always say, when are y'all going to put up some handrails around our entrance way. Yes there were no handrails for Jerry or my dad when they came to the plant. So Danny one of my employees drew out handrails for the steps and for the front porch of our office. So we ordered them and the guys installed them and when Jerry drove up said finally you have handrails, so we had them rope off and gave Jerry some scissors to commission the new handrails. I had made a picture and gave it to him. I have been hunting on the computer for it. Well, anyway we all got a big laugh out of that. He was special to all of us at the plant, with his humor, his wit and wisdom. I could write a book on all the stories Jerry told us. He would bring us hams each Christmas from Apple Lane farms. I just can not say enough about him, he was such a good man and it has been an honor to all of us at the plant to have known him. We will miss him and we know he is in heaven and not in pain anymore. There will never be another Jerry. To his wife our prayers go out to you and the family!
