“ Oh where do I start. Faye was one of the first person's I met when I came to Boeing in 1986. And we have been great friends since. I can't imagine if you could count up the minutes we have spent on the phone together how many that would be. After she retired, I would sometimes call her on my way home from work and we would talk for 45 minutes until I got home or until I finished gripping and talking about everyone at Boeing! She has gotten me through some tough times. I will always appreciate her friendship and the time that she gave me. Faye I will always love you. We always told each other that we loved the other one before we hung up the phone. Rest in peace Faye and your body is all perfect again and no more pain and suffering.

“ As Faye's first cousin, I remember growing up with Faye and her sisters, going to their house and gathering and eating peaches from their peach orchard. Times were much slower paced back then and we had time to enjoy family and friends. Faye was a very courageous lady all during her sickness, she always had a smile and I never heard her complain about her sickness. We all loved her but God loved her more.
