

Nathan Lane Braly

August 31, 1935 - November 12, 2010

Nathan Lane Braly, 75, passed away November 12, 2010 in Decatur, AL. A native of Tanner, AL, he was the son of the late Katherine and George Lancaster Braly. Lane is survived by his children, Debbie Williams, Nathan Braly Jr, Camilla and her husband Greg L. Gaston and, and Jason Lancaster Braly and his wife Michelle, his grandchildren, Brandi Colter, Casey Colter, Judson Braly, Josie Braly, and Grey Gaston, his great-granddaughter Marley Medina, and his brother George Braly Jr. and his wife Jeanie.

He worked for many years running the Braly farm and later attended Auburn University. After college he participated in the Alabama Air National Guard, was head of the Limestone County Civil Defense, and later went on to run a successful construction company in Dublin, GA. After retirement he could often be found socializing with friends, playing Dominos, and sharing a good laugh through his enjoyment of jokes. Lane will be remembered by those who loved him for his sense of humor, inventive nature, passion for music, dancing, and horses, and his exuberance for life.

A graveside service will be conducted Monday, November 15, 1:30 p.m. at Limestone Memorial Gardens cemetery. The family will receive friends at Limestone Chapel, Athens, AL, Monday from 11 to 1. In lieu of flowers, the family asks that donations be made to the Hospice of the Valley in the Braly name.

Tribute Wall

DT

“ Jason, Ann and I are so sorry for your loss. We feel your pain and are praying for you. I know God will comfort you in this time of grief.

David Tidwell - November 14, 2010 at 08:11 AM

FO

“ Nathan Lane Braly

Funeral Home Owner - May 13, 2010 at 02:29 PM