“ I had the pleasure to work with Randall for about 5 years in Athens. He was a hard worker who always did his job with no questions. You never had to ask where he was...he always was on time and on mission. He will be missed. Great Soldier, Great American!

We knew Randall at a very early age in that his parents and grandparents were our neighbors on Suffield Street. He and his two sisters and his aunt who was a bit older were young children having a good time. we enjoyed being neighbors with the Nortons and Smith grandparents The grandparent passed away fairly early in life leaving grandmother Smith to head the family which she did a great job. Howard, Randall's father passed away at a relatively early age, as well. One memory I will never forget relative to Randall. I heard a noise in our laundry room which had an outside entrance. I checked the noise out and leaning against one of the machines crying was Randall. perhaps not yet a teenager. I asked Randall what was troubling him and he said, daddy just died. I put my arm around him and walked him back home. This was a very emotional time for both the Norton and Smith families. Randal and all the family have left a lot of great memories for our family especially for our children Jeff and Suzanne. Rest in peace Randall Norton. Condolences are in order for all the family members-- Bill & Billie Bass--
