Bob has touched our lives in many ways. His humor was contagious. He first came into this world as a son and a brother; an honest man that had many friends.

Bob was a devoted and loving husband to Rosie, a dedicated father to Melissa and Danny, and uncle to nephews and nieces. He was a proud grandpa and "papa" to five grandchildren. In his last four years he enjoyed three great grandchildren.

Bob, throughout his life, provided for his family as a salesman that included travel to all 50 states.

Bob enjoyed photography, golf, pool, marksmanship, and he mastered woodworking. He enjoyed tying flies as he was an avid fly fisherman. Bob's challenge and strong will, in his last few years, serves as a reminder that wherever your life takes you, God is carving the way for us to follow.
