“ As i sit and think after saying my good byes to a wonderful man and someone I looked up to more than he will ever know, I can without a doubt say I had the privilege of knowing a true Indian warrior! He was given only months but fought and made it over a year before being called to home. Sam you will forever be in my heart and when it comes time for my battle I know you will be with me, and I hope that I can be at least half the warrior you were. You gave me so much and never asked for anything in return, I will be for ever grateful. Until we meet again where we will never have say good bye again, I will think about you everyday. RIP dude, I will miss you..... Scott Appleton
