“ we did the fighting brothers thing early on he enjoyed the big brother thing of trying to tell me his younger sibling what to do and I did my part to aggravate him and take advantage of the six years difference in our ages. Was glad that Kasey Harbin spoke about Steve lovingly kissing those he loved male or female family and friends. I will miss our conversation thru the week and our Friday brothers day and those big brother kisses.

“ I’m sad to learn of Steve’s passing. In 1983, he took a chance and hired me when I was straight from high school. After Onan closed, I was fortunate to have worked with him at Parker Hannifin for a couple more years. More than forty years later, I count Steve as one of the most influential people I’ve had the honor to know. A good man who demonstrated respect for people in all that he did. I count him as one of my dearest friends and influential people who shaped who I am today. I’m praying that God’s peace and comfort will blanket his entire family during this time.
